ACADEMIC CREDIT TRANSFER

Students are responsible for speaking with the appropriate advisors at their home university or college to determine how credits earned abroad will transfer. Every academic institution has different policies, and the transfer of credit will be determined by the home institution and not by ISA. Students should inquire about course transfer, transfer of grades vs. credit, major and minor requirements, etc. ISA cannot guarantee course placement and availability.

Students who are unable to secure desired courses or have difficulty transferring credit will not be subject to an exception from the standard ISA Cancellation Policy.

Maintaining a program's GPA requirement is the student's responsibility, and ISA is not responsible for the action of the host university if the student falls below the GPA requirement.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE PLACEMENT EXAM

If an ISA program requires a student to take a foreign language placement exam, performance on this exam may determine class eligibility. ISA cannot guarantee that students will place into any specific language level and cannot alter results of the placement exam. Students who do not place into the appropriate level needed for academic credit transfer will not be eligible for an exception from the standard ISA Cancellation Policy.

By signing below, I acknowledge that I have reviewed the Academic Credit Transfer and Foreign Language Placement Exam sections.
